- Large entry panels and spacious interior
- Detachable machine washable bottom panel
- Quick to setup and pack away
- Close Comfort energy consumption as little as 170 Watts

How Does the Igloo Work?

The Close Comfort patented sleeping tent uses the displacement air conditioning principle.

The air conditioner feeds cool air into the tent from the foot end of the bed using the included adapter.

Warm air is extracted from the tent and directed at the ceiling space where you cannot feel it.

The tent sides retain a layer of cool air over the mattress where you need it most.

The air conditioner constantly refreshes the cool air and fresh air circulates through the mosquito netting at the top of the tent.

Normal room air conditioners recirculate stale room air leading to high CO2 levels and dryness, often causing irritation to skin and eyes.

Close Comfort works with the windows and doors open so you sleep in fresh air all night long and wake up completely refreshed.

The tent increases the air conditioner efficiency as well, reducing your energy consumption to as low as 170 Watts for two people.

Convenient

No installation, no pipes, no consumables, minimal self-maintenance.

Healthy

With Close Comfort, fresh air is circulating the room instead of stale recirculated air. Unlike normal air conditioners Close Comfort doesn't leave you with dry itchy eyes.

Sustainable and Eco-Friendly

Minimal energy consumption using as little as 170 Watts. Close Comfort decreases your carbon footprint and contributes to a sustainable lifestyle.
